firm resolve to die gloriously: these aw? the three great principles of the military art that have always made fortune favourable in all my orations. Death is nothing; but to live defeated and ingloriouaIy, ia to die day.

I am a soldier, beeau.se that w the special faculty I born with; that is my life, my hnbit. I have commanded wherever I have been, I comnmmlcti, when twenty-three years old, at the siege of Toulon; I commanded in at Vend&niairc; I carried the soldier* of the army of ItaJf with me as soon as 1 apfttaml among them; I was that way.

August 12th. (Decree.) The Minister of Justice will call together at the ministry citoyen.s Tronehet, Bigot <lf Prearneneu, and Portalis, to confer on the draft of Civil Code.

13th. Wealth cannot confer it privilege. 1 have tic* *Im tentionof pn^ac'lungcoHectivi.Hin; I nm s{teuktng bctm*f^p» ourselves; I even want to him* rich inen» for that m only way of supimrting the i^Kir; hut I cannot admit wealth is entitled to social or fKililk'id distinction*

How can a state lie well governed without the awi of religion ? Society cannot with inequality of fortune, and inequality of fortune cannot In* nupjitirtcd %yill$-